About the Contractor Directory

This program is making available information about contractors who may be able to assist customers with their Energy Upgrade projects. The contractors listed in this website may not include all licensed contractors in a given area. The contractors listed are independent business owners who have agreed to participate in the Sonoma County Energy Independence Program, and who have supplied information about their business, services and qualifications. Contractors do not pay to be listed and do not purchase leads from the website.

Contractors must meet program requirements.

Basic Qualifications

- Appropriate California State License Board license
- Bonding and in good standing
- Workers' Compensation and General Liability insurance

Neither this program, the participating utilities nor any other public or private party associated with the Energy Upgrade program is: (a) endorsing, recommending or referring any specific contractor, (b) making any representation or warranty regarding the qualifications, licensing, products, or workmanship of any contractor, (c) making any warranty regarding the contractor's work or products purchased from contractors provided, or (d) accepting any liability that may be alleged to arise from the work of any listed contractor on a customer project or from any reliance on any claims, statements or other descriptions regarding a contractor's certifications, licenses, qualifications or products. Such claims, statements and other descriptions are made solely by the contractor.

Before hiring any contractor, customers are urged to visit the Contractors State License Board (CLSB) website at <http://www.cslb.ca.gov> for information on what you should do to protect yourself when hiring a contractor. The CSLB protects consumers by licensing and regulating the construction industry, and offers educational information about selecting a contractor, such as verifying that the contractor is properly licensed, obtaining several bids for any planned work, and executing a
